

Why NCCL switches before Simple becomes faster

Two GPUs | Fixed-protocol controls | Software chooser costs are not hardware measurements

Shading: Simple is selected even though the fixed-LL control is still faster at the sampled payloads.

Chooser lines use its recorded rounded latency/bandwidth table. The model parameters remain unchanged.

